

Chinese Garlic

Chinese garlic, because of its high quality and competitive price, has been well received by consumers all over the world in recent years. According to the variety, Chinese garlic is divided into normal white garlic (also known as red garlic), pure white garlic and single clove garlic. Among them, normal white garlic is the most popular. And the size of the garlic ranged from 4.5 cm to 7 cm.

Does garlic come from China?

The origin of garlic is in West Asia and Central Asia. China has been growing garlic since the Han Dynasty. That is, Chinese have more than 2,000 years of experience in growing garlic. Nowadays, China exports garlic to more than 120 countries and regions, accounts for 80% of the world's total exports. We can say that China is the world's leading producer, consumer and exporter of garlic.
